Giving Our Children a Fighting Chance

Jack & Marilyn Pechter partner with LifeBridge Health's Greenspring Pediatrics to help Baltimore City's most vulnerable children get the care they so urgently need.

FORCED TO FLEE HIS HOME COUNTRY OF POLAND AS A SMALL CHILD IN 1939, JACK PECHTER GREW UP WITH NOTHING.

Yet he vividly recalls the moments that taught him everything. Like the time his mother, Sarah, plucked a discarded apple out of the street gutter, cleaned it on her skirt, and—ignoring her own hunger—handed it to him. It was small moments like that—the ways she took care of her family and others—that made him want to do the same.

"In her mind, giving was the best thing you can do," Mr. Pechter's wife, Marilyn, tells us today. "As soon as Jack [began his real estate career and] sold his first house, his mother said to him in Yiddish: 'Jack, this is the time to start giving back.'"

And so he did. For more than half a century, Jack and Marilyn Pechter have created a legacy of philanthropy that spans the globe, becoming major supporters of organizations like his Yeshiva day school in Baltimore and the International School for Holocaust Studies at Yad Vashem in Jerusalem. LifeBridge Health has been fortunate to be one of the nonprofits they have chosen to champion over the years.

"We have always felt part of Sinai Hospital," Mrs. Pechter explains. "Our children were born there. Have had major surgery there. We also saw all the amazing things LifeBridge Health had done with other donors' gifts, so we knew our contributions could make a difference there."

Their first major gift in 1994 enabled the creation of the Max and Sarah Pechter Cahn Shalom Sinai Hospital's first and only dedicated kosher cafeteria, named in
