If you want to look your best then you should definitely take inspiration from Indian crafts. In this post, we will discuss how the ethnic vibes of meenakari handmade jewellery have made a comeback and the trend would probably stay for a longer time.

What Is Meenakari Art?

Meenakari art is a blissful amalgamation of colours, imagination and passion. In its simplest definition, the art form involves adding coloured enamel to a surface. Ornamenting the surfaces was started by painting ceramics and metals and soon the ecstasy of playful colours was introduced into jewellery art. The designer look still brings back the vibes of the Mughal era and the elegant colour combinations are high in demand for designer jewellery in artificial online stores.
