Efficiency and Safety are key in world of Material handling. Almost every business big or small in different industries is looking for ways to make their operations simple and reduce the physical burden on their workforce. For a while now, we have been proud of the fact that we, at Superlift Material Handling, are able to offer a considerable number of ergonomic equipment such as our well loved power pusher for sale. It is a versatile tool that will enrich your employee productivity while fully ensuring your employees safety.

What is a Power Pusher?

An electric device which moves heavy loads or loads with some ease is known as a power pusher. Although this is unlike traditional manual handling methods that could injure and tire operators, a power pusher empowers operators to transport materials freely. This equipment is perfect for warehouses, factories and distribution centres where the transport of big things is a typical part of a day job.

Superlift's Power Pusher is engineered to supply the power necessary to accomplish various applications and is a must have for your material handling arsenal. Our power pushers range from 500 lbs to 100,000 lbs and can take the harshest environments, all so you can depend on them for any and all heavy lifting.

Ergonomic Benefits of the Power Pusher

The power pusher is also designed ergonomically. Nearly all potential injuries arising from traditional manual handling are to the back, shoulders and arms. These risks are minimised with the power pusher, allowing operators to move heavy loads, with much less physical effort than was required before. But this isn't just about protecting your workforce, it also increases overall productivity.

Our power pusher is intentionally designed with intuitive controls to enable operators to move through tight spaces or complex environments. Now our Power pushers can help to create a safer & more efficient workplace by reducing the amount of physical strain needed to move heavy items.
